

Spokesperson Coaching

Own Your Message, Deliver Results

Spokesperson coaching empowers professionals to confidently navigate a variety of communication scenarios. From media, investor or other public engagements to internal events like board presentations and employee townhalls, this training is valuable for all team members to learn how to communicate with clarity and impact.

WHY OTH?

Backed by 15+ years of expertise in external communications and media relations, our team has prepared numerous Fortune 500 and public sector spokespeople for a variety of formats. From live broadcasts to boardrooms, panel discussions and keynote speeches, we've helped professionals hone their performance and leave a mark.

Participants acquire the necessary tools to:

- Articulate messages succinctly
- Maintain control of the narrative
- Build credibility and trust

The training will explore:

- The fundamentals of public speaking
- Effective delivery
- Polishing your performance

No Audience is Too Big or Small

From cognitive restructuring to attention-getting strategies, honing your flexibility and pivoting on the fly, we cover it all and leave you with a more assured presence across all communications platforms.
